since of the several coal carrying companies and the Reading Railroad Company, the Lohigh Mavigation Company, the Schaylkill Nav gation Company, Lehigh Valley Railroad Company, Belaware and Hudeon Company, Scranton, 2rd perhaps some others. Representatives of all these companies, we believe, were not present yesterday, but the eriginal assemblage, a month ago, was designed to embrace them all, and we are informed did, of most of them. The adjourned meeting yesterday was not so goverally responded to as the first call. The original meeting was convened at the instance of the Schnylkill Navigation Company, and the object is such an equivable adjustment of the tariff of charges as shall give to each outpany a fair share of the tuntage of the comean doughast a fair share of the tuntage of the comean doughast a fair share of the tuntage of the comean doughast a fair share of the tuntage of the comean four hundred thousand tuns. Not withstanding the increase of the former work, it is understood to have made nothing. The railroad wants back its four hundred thousand tuns lost, and the Navigation Company wants higher prices, so that its business may result in some profit, but fears to advance alone, lest the loss of tunnage, in consequence, will leave it next season as profitless as the last. The Reading is industrially and the season as profitless as the last. The Reading is industrially and the season as profitless as the last. The Reading is industrially and the season as the last of last year, and thinks that an increase of 10 e lib cents a tun by the Navigation, will give it the desired profit, and will tend to the more equitable division of tunnage amod at. The Lehigh Navigation is also requested to put up its tells or the price of its coal at tide water, the better to equalize the business between the Schuylkill and Lehigh regions. The replies to these questions are, that the tolls are up to the last and the adjourned meeting. Not what and an additional producing or consuming interests, or back in the start of t

THE AMERICAN GUANO COMPANY. Editor of The N. Y. Tribune.

Sin: Are their islands safe or dangerous piaces of besort? One old whaler speaks his mired in the follow-beg letter. Now let the Company call for the opinions all the others who have craised in those seas for e quarter of a century past, and for extracts from their Joannals on this subject, and let the country know why, if they have been boating off eggs from those places from 25 to 30 years past, they cannot now take of the guano. The interests of commerce and agri-

"New-Haven, Feb. 19, 1888.

"A. G. Benson, Esq.—My Dear Sir." Your letter of the 16th was handed me yesterday just as I was about leaving the city, and I did not return until it was too late for the mail; and I now hasten to answer year several questions (as an old retized whaler) in their regular order. Your first question is, 'Do you know what are the prevailing winds and weather in the vicinity of Jarvis and Baker's Islands? I answer: The weether is almost invariably mild and pleasant; the wind from the eastward, and moderate; and the sea smooth. I have cruised in the region of those islands many seasons during the Winter mounts, and have always tound moderate trade-winds, varying tem E. to S. E.

"Second." Did you ever land on tasse and other thands similarly situated in those regions?' Answer:

"Second: 'Did you ever land on tasse and other blands similarly situated in those regions !' Answer: Yes; en some of them many times. I was on shore at Jarvis Island in April, 1831, and spent the day on shore, while the boats were passing nearly all the time carrying off large quantities of eggs.

"Third: 'Did you effect such landing without thing and the property of the property

"Third.' Did you enert such sanding without any danger?

"Fourth: 'Can any deposit of guano be taken from said islands, and it so, how long a time would it take you te load a ship carrying one thousan! tuns with no their facilities than her own crev and boats! Answer: Not exceeding thirty days; my opinion is that I could easily load lifty tune a day with a good seew, and good boats.

"Fift.' 'How would you anchor and moer, and would you do both!' Answer: My present views are that I should anchor under the S. W. point of Jarvis bland, where the anchorage extends further from the abore, and would then, after farling the sails, warp tae hap within gun-shot of the inlet—where I should again anchor; and as the wind always blows across the island and off shore, I would then hau! the ship stern the shore, and moer her with spring hawsers arried from each quarter to the shore. Thus moored I would load her, after which I would take in my moorings, and let the ship awing to her anchors, from which I would make sait for my port of destination. Fellowing such a course, I think any man of ordinary skill and experience could readily obtain a cargo of "Herips these answers may be satisfactory, I remain yours." grane. "Hoping these snawers may be satisfactory, I remain yours JOEN STETSON."

man. He married the widow of one of our first Misnaries at the Eandwich islands, and now resides at he place where his letter is dated. It seems important that all the light possible should be thrown or this great subject, by some pronounced a great bubble while if Liebig is correct the deposits on Jarvis and Baker's islands will, with due cultivation of the ground, farnish food sufficient to feed with brend the whole population of the United States more than 300 years.

Markets....Carsfully Reported for The N. Y. Tribune.

Whednesday, Feb. 24, 1856.

ASHES—The market is freely supplied with Pots, and is lower; sales of 30 bbis. at $60.86 12. Pearls are quiet at $6.50. The stock consists of 1,232 bbis. Pots and 813 bbis. Pearls.

BOOTS AND SHOES—Trade in this branch of business continues in precisely the same position as noticed last Wednesday;

BOOTS AND SHOPS—Take it is noticed last Wednesday; the demand is very limited; Southern dealers are purchasing very small quantities, and Western merchants have not come forward to any extent; the supplies here and at the Eastward were manufactured from very expensive raw material. Manufactures, therefore, are not inclined to make up new goods (which they could now do st cheeper rates), as this would interfere with the working off of their old stock. The shipments to California are fair. To Australia, there is very lattle going forward. We give anhexed the wholesale prices that going forward.

And 36 small lots of one to nine head.

Upon the first quality of cattle we have advanced the rates above those of last week, but it is proper to remark that the advance was not maintained through the day. The sales of last evening and this morning, as well as the sales at Bergen on Monday, were certainly higher, and it was generally thought that owing to the small number of cattle in market, that the advance would hold good through the day, but this did not prove to be the case. In fact, it became very apparent before dinner that there was a stagnation in trade, and as the afternoon advanced the market became decidedly dull, particularly for the lowest grades, and as it finally proved, the supply, although small, was ample for a market day in Lent.

The general run of the stock to-day is very good, and the total weight to the number of head is considerably above the usual average. There are a great many red oxen, but many of them are only in fair working order, and some of them are too poor for that. There are also some coarse oxen from Michigan, and some Western steers that had better be where corn is plenty than where meat is scarce. It is a shameful sin to bring young steers here in such a condition that they will only bring Sc. a pound, and only weigh five or six hundred, while steers of the same age are selling in the next yard at 10 or 11c., and weigh nine or ten hundred. When will farmers learn that all this difference is their loss.

We are again asked to express our opinion of the future prospects of the market. Will those who ask it reason a little for themselves. What can any one see to induce the belief that prices will be any better for owners than they are this day. There has not been a Spring since we have been familiar with this market when the supply of Cattle in the country was so great, in proportion to the demand, as it is now; nor when grain was so plenty and cheap, to make these Cattle grain was so plenty and cheap, to make these Cattle large and fat. How then, can we expect any advance of price, except for a day like this, when, owing to any circumstance the supply falls a little short. But this of course cannot last, since any permanent rise of a cent a pound would bring in a week's supply from the immediate vicinity of the city. In fact, there are cows enough in the swill-slop stables to fill the demand one week for all who would kill that class of beef.

The Eastern buyers at Albany this week took off a larger number than usual, at 41 #50c, live weight. The stock over the Central Road are reported nausually good. In our opinion, this will continue to be the case, because Western feeders have been holding back thair cattle on purpose to consume a surplus of corn, and of course they are new and will be good all the spring.

Col. Flyrence, of Pickaway Conoty, Ohio, who fed 425 U is Winter, is in market to-day, with 82 head, that averaged 1.625 lb, at home, and another lot of 85 to be here next week, are about the same weight, and one of the three lots at home he experts, to make weight 18 cwt., and as he is known as one of Ohio sheet feeders, and as his cattle are all Durham, or condex of that head mona a form with an almost

One of the three lots at home he exports, to make weight 18 cwt., and as he is known as one of Ohio's west feeders, and as his cattle are all Darham, or grades of that blood, upon a farm with an almost unlimited supply of sound corn, we presume he will accomplish his undertaking. Will some of the breeders of small errobe think of a bead of 425 bewes upon one farm that will average over 16 cwt. The lot here to-day are willing by Thomas White, he thinks at not over 16c average, many of them being rather too heavy for the demand. Another pair, which weigh $300 lb, are held at $4.50. The whole will average about $9ic, mpan 6j cwt.

Alerton & Couper and Allerton & Myers are selling 112 head of rood Ohio Durhams, for Kaufman & Yundt, the home weight of which is given at 17 cwt. The best of these are selling at 104 willer, and the salesmen hope to realize enough to save the owners, who probably bought the catte at too high angure to allow a fair chance for profit in the present state of the market.

John A. Merritt has 50 less of good Pennsylvania fed beeves, some of which are very heavy, selling for 16celle. One pair to some of which are very heavy, selling for 16celle. One pair to the Mr. Kelly at $240, and another pair at $275, and 5 to Chris. Gwyer at $104, are not estimated over 10c. These cattle were fed in Lanoaster County, and bought in Philadelphia by E. Mc-quade at a price that will pay a very small profit, if any, on the rates of to-day.

The highest priced Steers of the lot are $100 each.

COWS AND CALVES.—There has been apparently a slight improvement this week in the Cow market. It is probably owing to the approach of Spring, and an inquiry on the part of families for good Cows for family use. The fact is that such Cows are scarce, and would now self well at $450\pm 655.

Veal Calves—The supply of good Calves is small, and they self quick at 767\frac{1}{2} \tau$, while kittens are dear at half that rate, but quite as ready of sale as the best. The fact is, that, notwithstanding the ordinance forbidding the sale of such calves, they are sold openly every day for human food, such as are not int for dog meat.

MR. RECORDER BARNARD.

To the Editor of The N. Y. Tribune.

To the Editor of The N. Y. Tribuse.

Sir: I trust you will allow me a brief space in your valuable paper to bear a merited testimony to the character of our new Recorder. He has just coacle, ded a term of his Court, and those who with myself ded a term of his Court, and those who with myself have been present at its sessions will agree that the bench has never been more efficiently occupied. I bench has never been more efficiently occupied, I am confident that, under his administration, the base are gularity and certainty not usual in our tribunals, a regularity and certainty not usual in our tribunals.

New York, Feb. 24.

". We are happy to give to the public an assurance like that contained in the last sentence of our corespondent's letter. There can be no doubt that an increase in the amount of the business transacted by the Recorder is desirable. In fact, we have repeately said that the Recorder might easily do all the wat now shared between him and the City Judge, and the latter be altogether dispensed with. [Ed. Trib. THE "KING" APPLE,-We have just tested the fruit which bears the above designation, which comes to us from Mr. E. C. Frost's "Highland Nurseries," near Havana, Schuyler County, N. Y. It can be over-praised, but it is a very good apple—large, fair, and of a mild, pleasant acid flavor. It is larger, more mellow, but less pungent than the Spitzenberg, which is our "King" apple. The tree is said to be a free bearer, and to have many other good qualities, which we are acquainted with at second hand only. The apple is very scquainted with at second-hand only. The apple is very showy, of a color shaded between red and yellow, and is said to have sold in our City this Winter at $6 to $7 per barrel. It will not supplant the established favorites, but we think it may wisely be tried along with them by those who may now or hereafter be putting out trees.
